REVIEWER COMMENTS:

(obligatory)

I think it would be good for the paper to describe in more extensive way the methodology of the paper. What databases Authors used, what keywords for what day the list of appropriate literature was prepared. For now the description of research plan is rather puzzled.

REVIEWER RECOMMENDATION:

Can this paper be accepted for being published?(underline appropriate)

YES – no changes required

YES – with minor revisions

YES – with major revisions

NOT ACCEPTABLE AT ALL

Title of the paper:*BIBLIOMETRIC ANALYSIS AND SYSTEMATIC LITERATURE REVIEW IN SOCIAL MANUFACTURING*Type and nature of the paper: theoretical, experimental, review*(underline appropriate or describe)*

The article is of a review nature and provides valuable and comprehensive coverage of the problems related to social manufacturing using bibliometric analysis.

REVIEWER COMMENTS:(obligatory)*

The article clearly defines the research aim and methods used to achieve the aim. In the INTRODUCTION and LITERATURE REVIEW sections, the author/authors introduce the reader to the subject area under discussion, setting it both within the framework of theoretical considerations and its impacts on economic practice. The considerations reveal the need to collate and analyze the current knowledge included in scientific publications available in recognized scientific databases such as Scopus, Web of Science, PubMed, Crossref, etc.

In the following paragraphs of the manuscript, the author/authors focus on the analysis of the literature related to social manufacturing in 2017-2021 available in the Scopus database (Table 1), logically indicating the stages of their analysis by describing them and presenting in Figures 3-6.

Next, the Author/Authors present the reader with the results of the studies in a transparent manner and do not raise any objections to the achievement of the research aim set by the Authors. They are comprehensively discussed and illustrated both numerically in Table 2 and in Figures (7-14) using appropriate statistical methods. However, I would suggest the following to the Authors:

- In the Abstract section, it is necessary to specify in detail the research methods used and to provide information on the period when the research was conducted.
- In the Conclusions section, I would suggest specifically indicating other research methods and other pieces of software that may have alternative applications in the Author/Authors' research.

I hope that the changes I suggested will make the publication even more widely readable to scientists and will also represent the inspiration for the Author/Authors for further research, e.g., comparative studies using other databases and/or scientific methods/software.

Important: Please read the text carefully and adapt it to the editorial requirements. I have found an incorrect numbering of, among others, figures, which in the text begins with the number 3 (Fig. 3. The method of data selection process). Please make appropriate adjustments.
