How to learn Simple Present Tense in a fun way for Junior High School!

Name:

Address:

Preface

Thanks to the Almighty God, God of all creatures, God of all natures for giving me inspiration and stamina to keep me consistent in writing and finishing this English.

The author has strived for the best for readers, therefore before this module was copyrighted, the author sought this module to be reviewed by Mrs. Sri Wiyannah M.Hum., who is a Lecturer in English Education, at PGRI Yogyakarta University.

The author hopes that this module can be a reading material for students or as a reference for education observers, especially for the academic community in Junior High School. The author's orientation is the completeness of the material and the ease for readers to understand the context. Because it starts from basic tenses that are closely related to everyday life. The discussion accompanied by examples in the form of comic strips makes it easy for readers to directly see the context of communication based on the Simple Present Tense.

This book consists of four units with different stories in each chapter. Each chapter has also been systematically organized according to the material based on the Merdeka Curriculum for seventh grade.
